As you may know, LSC received funding to conduct an in-depth evaluation of the quality of the national legal aid statewide website network. Our goal is to understand what has worked, what can be replicated, and outreach efforts can be replicated.

We are partnering with a design firm in Philadelphia, to help us find what has worked in the network. They are hoping to gather insights from your site in a brief phone call.

The sessions will be scheduled at a time that is convenient for you within the next week (May 2-9) and will last about 45 minutes to an hour. In order to participate, you will only need access to a phone.

As a thank you for your time, Intuitive will provide you with a $10 gift card for use at a variety of businesses and retailers once you have completed the study. If you are interested, simply reply all to this email and one of the Intuitive team members (cc’d above) will reach out to you to schedule a time to talk. Thank you very much for your help!
As you may know, LSC received funding to conduct an in-depth evaluation of the quality of the national legal aid statewide website network. Our goal is to evaluate whether sites are accessible, usable, helpful, and actually used by the intended low-income beneficiaries. This evaluation will also determine what has worked, what more needs to be done, and how successful components and outreach efforts can be replicated.

We are partnering with researchers from Intuitive, a user-centered research and design firm in Philadelphia, to help us conduct a large-scale assessment of the statewide website network. They are hoping to gather insights and feedback from you and your colleagues.

Applying for a Temporary Restraining Order

Steps you'll need to take

- Welcome
- Frequently Asked Questions
- Step 1. Fill out the court forms
- Step 2. File the court forms with the court clerk
- Step 3. Have a marshal serve the papers
- Step 4. Get ready for your hearing
- Step 5. On the day of your hearing
- Video: How to Apply for a Temporary Restraining Order
- Video: Tips for Going to Family Court
- What did you think of this class?

Step 1. Fill out the court forms

You will need to fill out the following forms. You can get them at any courthouse or at www.jud.ct.gov/webforms/. You can ask for help filling out forms at a Judicial Branch Court Service Center, located in most courthouses.

- Application for Relief from Abuse (JD-FM-137). This form tells the judge the names, addresses, and birth dates of the people in your case. It also lets you say if the person has guns.
- Affidavit for Relief from Abuse (JD-FM-138). This form tells the judge why you need a restraining order.
- Request for Nondisclosure of Location Information (JD-FM-188). This form makes sure that your contact information will be kept private.

If you have children under 18 and you will be asking the court to have them live with you, you should also fill out:

- Affidavit Concerning Children (JD-FM-164)

juvenile court that handled the delinquency or child in need of services case.

When deciding whether to grant the petition, the juvenile court may review:

- The best interests of the child.
- The age of the person during the person’s contact with the juvenile court or law enforcement agency.
- The nature of any allegations.
- Whether there was an informal adjustment or an adjudication.
- The disposition of the case.
- The manner in which the person participated in the court process.
- The time during which the person has been without the services of a law enforcement agency.
- Whether the person acquired a criminal record.
- The person’s current status.

If expungement is granted, the records may be destroyed or given to the person who requested expungement.

Welcome to the A2J Project Matching Portal! Now, teachers of A2J Author courses who are looking for student projects and legal aid organizations and courts looking for help automating forms can easily come together to collaborate on a project!

The portal is easy to use. Legal aid organizations and courts post project requests to create A2J Guided Interviews. Law faculty browse the list of available projects and email the project contact to start a conversation that will hopefully lead to a match.

If you’re from a legal aid organization or court, we invite you to post an A2J project. If you’re a law professor looking for a meaningful assignment for your students, we invite you to check out the list of available A2J projects.

So, do you want to get started? Check out this brief A2J Guided Interview with information and instructions. You can also find instructions below.

Executive summary

The current consumer electronics market is experiencing unprecedented change—and with that comes great opportunity. Together, Litware and Contoso are ideally poised to take a market leadership position and deliver quality, consistency, and innovation to their customers.

Increasingly, people hold multiple devices in hand. They are always on and always connected, so they require more from these devices—more power, more speed, more seamless integration. The industry challenge remains clear: Understand your customers, anticipate their future requirements, and deliver above their expectations.

That’s why a Litware-Contoso partnership makes sense. No one in the consumer electronics market has a better understanding than Contoso of its long history of exciting innovation, turbulent disruption, and remarkable growth. And no one in the market consistently navigates through these changes and empowers its partners like Contoso.

Why Contoso?

Of all the companies that Litware can work with, what makes Contoso different? Four key points, discussed in more detail below, prove how our partnership would be unique and powerful:

Missing escape chicken
Travis Mazing from Hillsdale

Black and white Polish chicken, it has a big afro, 503-707-4275
Shared with Hillsdale + 11 nearby neighborhoods in Lost & Found

Lynn and Leigh thanked Travis
Janet Jones from Hillsdale
Yes, and it sounded like they took the chicken to animal services for safe keeping (they were afraid their dog was going to eat it).

Melissa and Murphy thanked Janet
Sharon Sipprell from Hayhurst
Oh no I hope the chicken gets reunited with his owner
Thank Flag
Jj LeeKwai from South Burlingame
I think that Bob staser of hillsdale recently posted about finding your chicken under "lost chicken in my yard." Check the lost and found thread for the word chicken. Hope you find her soon.
