What's so Radical About Librarianship? Social Justice in the Information Professions

Reflection Exercise

Use the space below to take notes and reflect during and after the presentation. This exercise will also help us prepare for the small group discussion.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Key points from the presentation</th>
<th>Questions you have</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

In a few minutes, we will discuss the following questions in small groups. To prepare, jot down some notes about each question.

In what ways do libraries and archives have a responsibility to address social justice?

What social justice issues have come up in your work?

In what ways have you altered your own practice or agitated for institutional change in order to support social justice?

D. Keali‘i MacKenzie (david.kealii@gmail.com) • Koa Luke (keikiowaiawa@gmail.com) • Sveta Stoytcheva (sstoytcheva@gmail.com)