Empowering Students
by Promoting Positive Digital Identities

Presented by:
Becky Calzada @becalzada
Bobbie Johnson @spartanlibrary1
Dee Porter @librariandee
Nikki D Robertson-Griffin @nikkidrobertson

2018 CI Conference
Goals for today:

- attendees will review some current LISD digital citizenship data from BrightBytes
- learn about digital citizenship resources
- collaborate on ways to authentically integrate key concepts that can grow our students into digital leaders.
“Our kids are growing up on a digital playground and no one is on recess duty.” —@KevinHoneycutt
YouTube, Instagram and Snapchat are the most popular online platforms among teens

Note: Figures in first column add to more than 100% because multiple responses were allowed. Question about most-used site was asked only of respondents who use multiple sites; results have been recalculated to include those who use only one site. Respondents who did not give an answer are not shown.

Digital Citizenship Resources - Bobbie Johnson

Where to find ready-to-go lesson plans. The One and Done model. (Better than nothing!)

- Common Sense Media - Complete scope and sequence
- Google’s Be Internet Awesome Course - Great lessons and gaming
- Edutopia links - lots more
- Example
Why be a digital citizen?

“Creating and sharing of content is what education is all about. In this vast, connected world, we shouldn’t limit our students to creating and sharing content solely for us, when so many opportunities exist for them to share with an authentic, real audience.”

Casa-Todd, Jennifer. Social Leadia, p. 42
Authentic Integration: Not vs. Do

- Blogs - These documents are based entirely on the work of Jacqui Daves, librarian extraordinaire at HMS

- Google Suite - extend the walls of your classroom to other classes, schools, the world.
  - Peer mentoring/review
