Legally Defensible Manifestation Determination Meetings

February 7, 2020

Presented by:

Carl D. Corbin,
General Counsel
Experience
Mr. Corbin has successfully represented districts at various stages of special education litigation, including administrative hearings. He has assisted districts in responding to student and employee complaints before DFEH, EEOC, CDE, and OCR. He has also represented districts with classified and certificated layoffs and other employee related matters.

Mr. Corbin works with districts to avoid litigation through preventive education by presenting workshops, and developing training and prevention materials, including Legal Updates.

Mr. Corbin served on the Office of Administrative Hearings Special Education Advisory Committee for the State of California for the 2008-2009 and 2009-2010 school years. From Spring 2007 through Spring 2012 he was a lecturer at Sonoma State University in either the Department of Educational Leadership or Special Education. He is a past president of the California Council of School Attorneys.

Prior to joining SCLS, Mr. Corbin served in the United States Army for over three years. He has ten years’ experience as a Counselor or School Psychologist, is a Licensed Educational Psychologist (Inactive), and a Nationally Certified School Psychologist.

IDEA & Section 504

Special Education/Section 504 Discipline
For the most part, the same rules apply to students who qualify for services under Section 504 of the 1973 Rehabilitation Act (“Section 504”) as apply to students who qualify for services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (“IDEA”). Differences between Section 504 and IDEA will be discussed.
Acronyms

- IDEA – Individuals with Disabilities Education Act
- Section 504 – Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973
- FBA – Functional Behavioral Assessment

Special Education Discipline

- Special Education (and 504 students) are also “special” when it comes to discipline.
  - Special education student.
  - Student in process of being assessed for special education.
  - Student whom the Local Educational Agency (“LEA”) had a basis of knowledge the student might be a special education student.
  - 504 students (Section 504 of the 1973 Rehabilitation Act).
- EC 48915.5 – California law defers to IDEA federal law and regulations regarding suspension and expulsion of special education students.
Special Education Discipline
Repeal of FAA (“Hughes Bill”)

• Prior to July 1, 2013, California had adopted additional law and regulations for special education students with serious behavior issues, which was commonly referred to as the “Hughes Bill.”
  • The Hughes Bill created the Functional Analysis Assessment (“FAA”), which resulted in Behavioral Intervention Plan (“BIP”).
  • The requirements of the Hughes Bill were in addition to the IDEA requirements of a Functional Behavioral Assessment (“FBA”) that resulted in an IDEA Behavioral Intervention Plan, which to differentiate from a Hughes Bill plan was referred to as a Behavior Support Plan (“BSP”).

Repeal of FAA (“Hughes Bill”) cont.

• Effective July 1, 2013, AB 86 repealed the Hughes Bill requirements.
  • All of the regulations and legal requirements associated with a FAA have been repealed.
  • There are still some reporting/meeting and other requirements for students with behavioral issues.
• CA has deferred back to the IDEA for guidance on addressing the needs of a students whose behavior impedes the student’s learning or the learning of others.
  • IDEA FBA results in a BIP. There is limited language in the IDEA regarding the legal requirements of a FBA and BIP.
Functional Behavioral Assessment

The IDEA does not specifically define “FBA”…

- In the case of a child whose behavior impedes his or her learning or that of others, the IEP team must consider, when appropriate, the use of “positive behavioral interventions and supports, and other strategies to address that behavior.” 20 USC section 1414(d)(3)(B)(i); 34 CFR section 300.324(a)(2)(i).
- The purpose of a FBA is to isolate a target behavior (a behavior that interferes with the student’s learning) and to develop a hypothesis regarding the function of the target behavior for the purpose of developing a BIP to address the target behavior through strategies and interventions to result in a positive replacement behavior.
  - Anaheim City Sch. Dist. (OAH 6-14-10) 2010010357.

Requirements of a FBA:

- If an FBA is used to evaluate an individual child to assist in determining the nature and extent of special education and related services that the child needs, the FBA is considered an evaluation under federal law.
  - Letter to Christiansen, 48 IDELR 161 (OSEP 2007).
- Consequently, an FBA must meet the IDEA’s legal requirements for an assessment, such as the requirement that assessment tools and strategies provide relevant information that directly assists in determining the educational needs of the child. 34 CFR section 300.304(c)(7).

Functional Behavioral Assessment

Duty to Conduct a FBA:

Student proved a functional behavior assessment should have been conducted before March 2018. Tantrum behaviors occurred during Student's first year of attendance at Garvey. By the time of his January 19, 2017 annual IEP, Student tantrumed by hitting himself, grabbing onto an adult, crying, screaming, and throwing himself on the ground. Garvey had sufficient time, between the beginning of the statutory period on February 28, 2017 and the May 17, 2017 IEP, to conduct a functional behavior assessment and develop a behavior intervention plan...

Garvey should have offered Parent an Assessment Plan for a functional behavior assessment before Mother requested one in January 2018. During the 2016-2017 school year, staff sought more to calm and soothe Student than to implement positive behavioral interventions to address his learning and behavioral needs. The evidence demonstrated that calming and soothing resulted in reinforcement of tantrum behaviors, as Student learned that he could obtain what he wanted through tantrums.

The following school year, Ms. Gonzalez did not understand the function of Student's behavior resulting in continued reinforcement of negative behavior. Primarily, Student's behavior functioned to obtain attention, which he obtained when he tantrumed. Such behaviors denied him access to educational opportunities and resulted in a denial of a FAPE. (Pgs. 20-21).

Garvey Sch. Dist. (OAH 9-16-19) 2019030004.

Functional Behavioral Assessment

Duty to Conduct a FBA:

Here, Garvey special education teachers, aides, services providers and IEP administrative designees were on notice of Student's tantrum behaviors moving into the statutory period, through the 2017-2018 school year. Yet not one of them recommended a functional behavior assessment be conducted. Student's January 2016 IEP identified behavior goals as a means of addressing behaviors impeding learning. However, none of Student's IEP team members proposed behavior goals during the statutory period. Most significantly, Student's providers did not recognize that responding to Student's tantrums by allowing him to escape non-preferred activities served to reinforce this behavior. Therefore, to ensure students within Garvey School District receive appropriate behavior supports and services, [three hours of] training is an appropriate remedy. (Pg. 31).

Garvey Sch. Dist. (OAH 9-16-19) 2019030004.
Functional Behavioral Assessment

What about a BIP?

• “However, neither Congress, the U.S. Department of Education, nor any statute or regulation has created substantive requirements for a behavior plan as contemplated by the IDEA. (Alex R. v. Forrestville Valley Community Unit Sch. Dist. #221 (7th Cir. 2004) 375 F.3d 603, 615.) The IEP team must consider the use of positive behavioral interventions and supports, and other strategies, but the implementing regulations of the IDEA do not require the team to use any particular method strategy or technique. (71 Fed. Reg. 46,683 (Aug. 14, 2006).)

Special Education Discipline
FBA + IDEA 2004

• Congress removed from IDEA 2004 the requirement to conduct a FBA or review and modify an existing BIP within 10 days of a disciplinary removal regardless of whether the behavior was a manifestation of the student’s disability.
• But still a really, really, good idea.
• IDEA 2004 still requires FBA or review of BIP if behavior was a manifestation of disability.
Special Education Discipline
In-School Suspension

EC 48911.1:
(a) A pupil suspended from a school for any of the reasons enumerated in Sections 48900 and 48900.2 may be assigned, by the principal or the principal's designee, to a supervised suspension classroom for the entire period of suspension if the pupil poses no imminent danger or threat to the campus, pupils, or staff, or if an action to expel the pupil has not been initiated.

Change in Placement

In-School Suspension:

• In-school suspension is not a change in placement for purpose of convening MD if:
  1. The student is afforded the opportunity to continue to appropriately participate in the general curriculum; and
  2. Continue to receive the services specified on the student’s IEP; and
  3. Continue to participate with nondisabled students to the extent they would have in their current placement.
Change in Placement

Partial school days?

• “Portions of a school day that a child had been suspended may be considered as a removal in regard to determining whether there is a pattern of removals…” 71 Fed. Reg. 46,715 (2006).
• OSEP found “The use of short-term disciplinary measures [administratively shortened day]…implemented repeatedly (emphasis added), could constitute a disciplinary removal.” Letter to Mason (OSEP 7-27-1018).
• OCR found “early dismissal” of student from school, even without being formally suspended, counted towards 10 days for determining the need to conduct a manifestation determination for a special education student. South Bronx Classical Charter Sch. (OCR 6-7-12) 02-12-1064.

Tip: In the absence of any other federal guidance on this issue, we advise that LEAs “round up” when calculating school days for purpose of “pattern of removals…”

Special Education Discipline

Bus Suspension

• If transportation is included on a student’s IEP then a bus suspension is treated like a suspension under 34 C.F.R. 300.530 unless alternative transportation is provided.
• See EC 48915.5, which requires alternative transportation to be provided in case of bus suspension if the service is on student’s IEP.
• OSEP opined in Letter to Sarzynski (6-21-12) 112 LRP 35343 that LEA must still convene MD even if parent voluntarily transports the student to/from school when: the student has been suspended for over 10 days (including any bus suspensions) during a school year; the student has been suspended from the bus; and transportation services are provided for in the student’s IEP as a related service.
Special Education Discipline

Change in Placement

A “change in placement” occurs when:
1. The series of removals total more than 10 consecutive school days in a school year; or
2. The student is subjected to a “series of removal that constitutes a pattern.”

Series of removals that constitutes a pattern:
1. Totals more than 10 school days in a school year; and
2. Student’s behavior is substantially similar to student’s behavior in previous incidents that resulted in a series of removals; and
3. Because of additional factors such as the length of each removal, the total amount of time the student has been removed, and the proximity of the removals to one another. (34 C.F.R. 300.536)

4 Types of Removals

1. Short term removals for 10 days or fewer.
2. Short term removals that total more than 10 cumulative days constituting a change in placement.
3. Short term removals that total more than 10 cumulative days that does not constitute a change of placement.*
   * Danger Zone – proceed with caution…
4. Long term removals of more than 10 consecutive days.
Special Education Discipline

Type 1

1. Short-term removals for 10 days or fewer
   - Suspension of 10 days or less per school year = student not entitled to any services
   - General Disciplinary Rules Apply.
   - No Manifestation Determination meeting required.
   - Best practice is to consider FBA+BIP and convene IEP meeting.

Special Education Discipline

Types 2 and 4

2. Short term removals that total more than 10 cumulative days constituting a change in placement.
4. Long term removals of more than 10 consecutive days
   - Students have a right to educational services on 11th Day to enable student to:
     - Participate in general education curriculum, although in another setting (may be interim alternative setting); and
     - To progress towards meeting the student’s IEP goals.
     (34 C.F.R. § 300.530(d))
   - Receive a FBA+BIP “as appropriate” (should happen).
   - Manifestation Determination must happen within 10 school days of any decision to change the placement of the student
   - IEP team determines scope of services – parent may disagree = expedited due process hearing. Discuss at MD meeting.
Special Education Discipline

2. Short term removals that total more than 10 cumulative days constituting a change in placement.

4. Long term removals of more than 10 consecutive days
   • The LEA should not have a policy of providing all students with a “standard” service – rather the scope of services should be discussed on individual basis at the MD meeting.
   • OAH ALJ ordered a LEA, among other remedies, to provide 4 hours of training to staff focusing on provision of special education services to students suspended pending expulsion when LEA staff testified that the LEA’s standard practice was to uniformly provide only “homework packets” to “RSP only” students on suspension pending expulsion hearing. Fresno Unified Sch. Dist. (OAH 6-22-12) 2012020842.

Special Education Discipline

WARNING Type 3 WARNING

3. Short-term removals of more than 10 cumulative days not constituting a change in placement
   • Students have a right to educational services on 11th Day to enable student to:
     • Participate in general education curriculum, although in another setting (may be interim alternative setting); and
     • To progress towards meeting the student’s IEP goals. (34 C.F.R. § 300.530(d)(4))
     • Receive a FBA+BIP “as appropriate” (should happen).
     • Manifestation Determination not required but what if…
     • IEP team determines scope of services – parent may disagree = expedited due process hearing.
     • Services the student receives NOT determined by IEP team, but by “school personnel, in consultation with at least one of the student’s teachers.”
Special Education Discipline
Manifestation Determination

When:
• Held within 10 school days after decision to impose a removal that constitutes a change in placement. (34 C.F.R. 300.530(e))

Purpose:
• To review the relationship between the student’s disability and behavior subject to disciplinary action

Procedures:
• (Federal) LEA, parent and relevant members of IEP team consider evaluation/diagnostic results, observations, information supplied by parents, student’s IEP and placement. (34 C.F.R. 300.530(e))
• (State) Used to have separate state procedures, but now aligned with federal standards. (EC 48915.5)

Procedural Safeguards:
• On date decision is made by LEA to make a removal that constitutes a change of placement, parents must be notified and provided with a copy of procedural safeguards. (34 C.F.R. 300.530(h))

Manifestation Determination Meeting

• The modified IEP team* must determine whether the student’s behavior was a manifestation of the student’s disability.
• However, “it is not appropriate to make IEP decisions based on a majority ‘vote.’” Rather, if there is a disagreement, the LEA representative makes a decision and the parent has the right to seek resolution through an expedited due process decision.
  • *Letter to Richards (OSEP 1-7-10) 55 IDELR 107.
Manifestation Determination Meeting

The two questions to be addressed at a MD:

1. Was the conduct in question caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to the student’s disability; OR

2. Was the conduct in question the direct result of the LEA’s failure to implement the student’s IEP.

34 CFR section 300.530(e).

On March 1, 2017, J.H. assaulted another student. (Id. at 4.) A different student agreed to film J.H. assault the victim and share the video online. (Id.) When J.H. approached the victim during lunch to talk, the victim offered J.H. a box of raisins. (Id. at 3.) Without provocation, J.H. abruptly grabbed the victim’s head and smashed it into his lunch on the cafeteria tabletop. (Id.) The victim became upset and struck J.H.’s chest. (Id.) J.H., “still standing over the [victim], then wound up like a softball pitcher and delivered a fist punch to the left eye socket on the [victim’s] face.” (Id.) As a result, the victim suffered a broken nose and eye socket, a collapsed nasal cavity, an air pocket behind the left ear, and a concussion. (Id.at 4.)

On March 7, 2017, the District held an MDR. (Id. at 5.) The psychologist, the secondary supervisor of special education, the assistant principal, the counselor, the regular education teacher, the special education teacher, L.H., J.H.’s grandfather, and J.H. attended the MDR. (Id.; Manifestation Determination Worksheet at 8.) “To ensure the manifestation determination team had up to date data[,] the psychologist spent three to four hours reading and reviewing records.” (HOD at 16.) The team reviewed the relevant records and collected input from the teaching staff, the psychologist, the mental health counselor, and L.H. (Id. at 5.)

The hearing officer correctly determined that the District’s MDR was legally sufficient. MDR attendees “shall review all relevant information in the student’s file.” § 1415(k)(1)(E). But each member of the review team need not review the entire file. See Fitzgerald v. Fairfax Cty. Sch. Bd., 556 F. Supp. 2d 543, 559 (E.D. Va. 2008) (“All the statute requires is that, before reaching a manifestation determination, the team must review the information pertinent to that decision.”). Here, at least two members of the MDR team reviewed video footage capturing the incident. (Pls.’ Mot. at 12; Tr. 244:13–25.)
Here, the parties agree that J.H.’s disabilities are Attention Hyperactivity Disorder Inattentive Type and a Specific Learning Disability in Written Expression. (HOD at 15.) The MDR team and the hearing officer considered J.H.’s disability-related manifestations such as impulsiveness and low frustration tolerance; “stressors” that Plaintiffs asserted are interconnected with J.H.’s disabilities such as family dynamics and living arrangements; and other factors such as cyberbullying. (HOD 13–16.)

It is unapparent to the Court how J.H.’s disability, or its impulsive effects and associated stressors, caused or directly and substantially related to a planned assault on another student. See Danny K. v. Dep’t of Educ., Civ. A. No. 11-00025, 2011 WL 4527387, at *15 (D. Haw. Sept. 27, 2011) (noting that planned activities are less likely manifestations of a student’s ADHD because the disability affects organization or attentiveness).

• Student is currently sixteen years old and his public home school is Castle High School.
• Student was identified as eligible for special education and related services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (“IDEA”) in March 2010, due to a diagnosis of Attention–Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder, Predominantly Inattentive Type (“ADHD”).
• In May 2010, however, Student set off a firework/bomb in the boys’ bathroom at Castle, causing extensive damage.

The officer further noted that school psychologist Leslie Kunimura, who was part of the team, “opined that Student’s conduct in lighting off the bomb was not a manifestation of his diagnosis of ADHD, inattentive type”; and that behavioral health specialist Jackson “testified that Student is able to appreciate the consequences of his actions, even though he has been diagnosed with ADHD, inattentive type, and he is impulsive.” Id. The officer agreed that “[t]he facts surrounding the explosion show that Student’s admitted act of lighting the fuse was not an impulsive act which Student could not control.”
Plaintiffs cite no authority, and the Court has found none, to suggest that a manifestation determination team must review the merits of a school’s findings as to how a student violated the code of student conduct. Such a requirement would essentially deputize manifestation determination teams, and in turn, administrative hearings officers and federal courts, as appellate deans of students.

Accordingly, the manifestation determination team did not violate the IDEA in accepting the Defendant’s finding that Student set off the firework without independently reviewing the accuracy of that finding.

In particular, Leslie Kunimura, the school psychologist who explained Student’s diagnosis to the manifestation determination team, testified that:

[Student’s] conduct was not a manifestation of his diagnosis of the ADHD inattentive type because the act of setting an explosive off at school is a planned activity. It requires sustained attention. It requires follow through with directions. So students with ADHD, inattentive type, they have difficulty organizing tasks and following through with directions because they are easily distracted, and they tend to overlook the details of the task.

Plaintiff asserts that the school denied L.B. a FAPE by placing him on long-term suspension after the rock-throwing incident. He suggests that (1) throwing rocks might have been a manifestation of L.B.’s disability, (2) L.B.’s “history of disruptions” in school were manifestations of his disabilities and were wrongfully used as grounds for this suspension, and (3) the school had not provided L.B. an IEP or an evaluation prior to the time it suspended L.B. Pl.’s Mot. 24-26. The Court again disagrees.

After reviewing the record and giving “due weight” to the hearing officer’s factual findings, this Court has no reason to disturb the finding that L.B. intentionally threw rocks at other students on April 19, 2017. L.B.’s conduct on that occasion—including striking a student with four rocks and then striking a separate student with a rock right after having asked something like “do you think I can hit him with a rock?”—certainly seems to suggest intentional conduct, rather than some sort of involuntary, complex motor tic, as suggested by Plaintiff.

Finally, as the IDEA does not require an IEP or an evaluation before a child is placed on long-term suspension, this Court concludes that the decision to place L.B. on long-term suspension was not improper either because the IEP was issued after the suspension or because there had not been a school-funded evaluation.

Because L.B.’s rock-throwing behavior was intentional and not a manifestation of a disability, the school was permitted to apply the same “relevant disciplinary procedures” it would have applied to any other rock-throwing child without a disability.

Roseville Joint Union High Sch. Dist. (OAH 2013) Case No. 2013080664

- 17-year-old with primary disability hearing impairment and secondary OHI (for ADHD).
- Student punched assistant principal!
- ALJ found MD procedurally defective because LEA did not consider whether or not bi-polar disorder, recent 5150’s, suicidal ideation, etc. caused the behavior.
Special Education Discipline

• Consider all of the student’s disabilities not just IDEA disability category.
• IEP to review at MD is the IEP mutually agreed upon.
• ADHD impacts “spur-of-the-moment” decisions not “long-term assessing for future consequences.”
• First year M.A. school psychologist (Bylund) opinion prevails against 30 year Ph.D. school psychologist (Prinz), psychiatrist (Mishek), and 30 year psychiatrist (Buccigross).

Riverside Unified Sch. Dist. (OAH 2014) Case No. 2014030785
• 15-year-old with primary disability OHI (for ADHD).
• Student was provided firecracker at school from friend during the lunch period and friend told him to light it. Student deferred and stated he would lit it after school as he did not want to get in trouble with police or hurt anyone. Later, another group of students (including the original “friend”) placed a firecracker in an apple and verbally “goaded” Student into lighting the firecracker. Student walked away in an isolated area (so others would not be hurt) tried to light the firecracker, but it was too wet and/or the firecracker was defective.
• District determined that possession of firecracker was violation of Education Code section 48900(b), determined the possession of the firecracker was not a manifestation of Student’s disability.
• ALJ upheld LEA’s decision finding Student’s actions were deliberate rather than impulsive in nature.
Special Education Discipline
Manifestation Determination cont.

- Yes, manifestation of the student’s disability, the student may not be disciplined for that behavior:
  - Conduct a FBA and implement a BIP if one was does not already exist;
  - Or review the BIP and modify if necessary;
  - Except under “special circumstances”, return the student to last mutually agreed upon IEP placement unless a new placement is agreed to by the IEP team.
- No, not manifestation, the student can be disciplined as a general education student but must continue FAPE and IEP team not required to develop a BIP (but a really, really good idea).

Foster Youth
Effective January 1, 2013, AB 1909 requires that for Class I and Class II acts the school district shall invite to the manifestation determination IEP meeting the attorney representing the foster student receiving special education services and an appropriate representative of the county child welfare agency. Notice may be made by the most cost-effective method, which may include electronic mail or a telephone call.

Homeless Child/Youth
Effective January 1, 2015, AB 1806 requires that for Class I and Class II acts the school district shall invite to the manifestation determination IEP meeting the LEA liaison for homeless children/youth. Notice may be made by the most cost-effective method, which may include electronic mail or a telephone call.

Stipulated Suspended Expulsion Agreement

When a student has engaged in misconduct and a stipulated suspended expulsion agreement is reached by parents there should be a MD meeting prior to the signing of the agreement.

After the stipulated suspended expulsion agreement has been approved by the LEA governing board and the student commits another act of misconduct and the LEA intends to impose the expulsion that had been suspended – another MD meeting must be convened.

While not legally required, really helpful for a school psychologist to conduct a screening/review of records to develop a short report to be considered at a Manifestation Determination IEP meeting. Many OAH hearing decisions reference, with approval, the development of such a report by the school psychologist associated with a Manifestation Determination IEP.

- One to two pages in length is fine, bonus points for a longer report.
- Please note: this report is a record review, discussion/interview with staff and administrators, screening so no assessment plan is required. If any standardized assessments are implemented then written parental consent on an assessment plan must be obtained.
- This summary report should be discussed/reviewed at the manifestation determination meeting and be attached to the manifestation determination IEP document along with the IEP meeting notes.
Special Education Discipline

Include the following:

Demographic information
• The same as a “regular” assessment report (student’s name, grade, D.O.B., parents, school, etc.)

Student’s Disability
• Provide the student’s disability eligibility category(ies) under the IDEA (SLD, OHI, ED, etc.).
• In addition, to the IDEA disability(ies), also mention other disabilities such as ADHD, Down Syndrome, Bi-Polar Disorder, etc.

Student’s Special Education Services and Supports
• List the student’s special education services and supports.

Description of Misconduct that Resulted in Discipline
• Describe in a paragraph or two the facts surrounding the incident.

Analysis
• Describe in a paragraph your professional opinion, based on the student’s individual learning needs (disabilities) and based on the facts of the incident, as to whether the incident was a manifestation of the student’s disability.
• Please include after your opinion:
  • “However, all final determinations regarding whether ________’s conduct was a manifestation of his/her disability will be determined by ________’s IEP team at his/her forthcoming manifestation determination meeting.”
• Conclude the report with a title, signature and date.
Special Education Discipline
Special Circumstances

Where the student commits any of the following 3 acts, the student may be removed for 45 school days to an IAES even if the student’s behavior was a manifestation of the student’s disability (a MD meeting must still be convened! William S. Hart Union HSD (OAH 5-10-16) 2016030901) and even if the parent disagrees (parent has a right to expedited due process upon disagreement). (34 C.F.R. § 300.530(g).)

1. Student carries or possesses a “weapon” to or at school, on school premises, or at school functions;

Determining whether Fiskars scissors (5 ½ inches from tip to handle) with rounded and blunt edges (“childproof scissors”) held by student (without a prior history of using scissors in a threatening manner) for approximately 30 seconds without brandishing constituted a “weapon” under the IDEA (capable of causing serious bodily injury or death) depended on how the student used the scissors. In this case, the ALJ found the scissors were not a weapon by the eight-year-old student with ED.

- Student was placed in an IAES for at least 45 school days.
- Following the IAES placement, LEA subsequently took action to expel student because of state and federal laws requiring expulsion for possession of firearm at school.
- LEA argued that OAH lacked jurisdiction to prevent student expulsion due to firearm possession.
- ALJ found that IDEA law precluding change of placement (e.g. expulsion) when student’s misconduct was manifestation of disability applied and, therefore, student could not be expelled and ALJ ordered LEA to reinstate student at IEP NPS.

Expedited Due Process Hearing

- If the parent disagrees with the team’s determination that the student’s behavior was not a manifestation of the student’s disability, then the student “stays put” in the discipline setting and parent files for expedited due process.
- If the student’s behavior was a manifestation of the student’s disability, then the student is not disciplined and “stays put” in the IEP placement and the LEA can file for expedited due process if the student’s placement “is substantially likely to result in injury to the student or others.” (34 CFR 300.532(a))
- Expedited due process hearing must be held within 20 school days as compared to 45 calendar days for “regular” due process hearing.
Special Education Discipline
LEA Expedited Due Process Request

• An LEA may file for an expedited due process hearing (must be heard and decision rendered in 20 school days) regarding whether maintaining the student’s placement is “substantially likely” to result in injury to the student or others. If the LEA prevails at hearing, OAH may order an IAES for no more than 45 school days, although an LEA can seek to renew the order.

• This is an option for an LEA in which a MD was held where there were no special circumstances and the IEP team found the behavior subject to discipline was a manifestation of the student’s disability.

• During the hearing process, the student is maintained in the last mutually agreed upon and implemented placement unless there is mutual agreement to change the student’s placement.

Student Not Yet Identified as Special Education

• A student not identified as special education may assert IDEA protections if the LEA had “knowledge” that the student is disabled before incident occurred.

• “Deemed to have knowledge”:
  • Parent expressed written concern to supervisors/teachers that student needs special education;
  • Parent has requested a special education evaluation; or
  • Teacher or other school personnel expressed “specific concerns” about a “a pattern of behavior” directly to special education director or other supervisory personnel.
  • 34 CFR section 300.534(b).

• LEA deemed not to have knowledge where the LEA had assessed the student and the student did not qualify for services or student was referred for evaluation, but parents refused the evaluation or refused services.

- 15-year-old 9th grade student who initially qualified under Section 504 for ADHD and then three weeks later cut the back of a peer’s hand (requiring 7 stitches to close and paramedics were called to the school). Parent had requested months earlier in previous school year by email that student be assessed for special education. LEA did not complete an IDEA assessment at that time.
- Student stated she accidently injured peer with a pen and a search for a knife in the classroom was initially not successful, but later police search found two knives in student’s undergarment.
- Section 504 MD meeting was convened and it was determined by LEA that student’s misconduct was not a manifestation of her disability. Parent requested another IDEA assessment at the Section 504 meeting. The LEA subsequently completed the IDEA assessment (but had not convened IEP meeting as of the hearing date). Student was expelled.
9. Despite Hayward’s basis of knowledge that Student was a student with a disability at the time of the November 8, 2017 incident, Hayward decided to effectuate a disciplinary change in placement for more than 10 school days. Therefore, the disciplinary protections of a manifestation determination apply to Student. Hayward was required to presume Student was eligible for special education and conduct a timely manifestation determination under the IDEA with regard to Student’s conduct on November 8, 2017. Hayward failed to do so. Its legal obligation was not discharged by conducting a Section 504 manifestation determination on November 27, 2017. (Pg. 12).

10. Hayward’s contention that it is not required to conduct a manifestation determination review unless it finds that Student is eligible for special education runs counter to the law which expressly affords Student the right to assert any of the disciplinary protections. (Pg. 13).

16. Student’s requested remedies of rescinding the expulsion order and reinstating her at her high school placement are denied as premature in this case…Student has not persuaded this tribunal that she is entitled to any remedy other than a manifestation determination under the IDEA. (Pg. 15).

• The student had been expelled for writing a threatening note to a female student.
• ALJ ordered the student to be reinstated to the same school that he was attending prior to the November 4, 2011, incident.

• ALJ also ordered that if the LEA decided not to convene a MD meeting, then all references to the student’s expulsion must be purged from the student’s records.
• Oddly and of some concern, the ALJ also found that the three criteria in 34 CFR 300.534(b) were not the sole means that a LEA could be deemed to have knowledge. This finding could significantly widen the scope and kind of information that could establish a LEA had a basis of knowledge.

OFFICE OF ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS
STATE OF CALIFORNIA

In the Matter of:

PARENT ON BEHALF OF STUDENT,

v.

LIBERTY UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT.

OAH Case No. 2017040078

EXPEDITED DECISION

Student filed a due process hearing request (complaint) which contained both expedited and non-expedited issues with the Office of Administrative Hearings, State of California, on February 15, 2017, naming the Liberty Union High School District. Administrative Law Judge Charles Marson heard the expedited portion of this matter in Brentwood, California, on May 2 and 3, 2017.

Betsy Brazy, Attorney at Law, represented Student. Mother was present throughout the hearing. Student did not attend.

David R. Mishook, Attorney at Law, represented Liberty. John Saylor, Liberty’s Director of Student Services, attended the hearing on its behalf. Dr. Tony Shah, Liberty’s Assistant Superintendent, also attended most of the hearing.

On May 3, 2017, the record was closed and the matter was submitted. The parties filed written closing arguments on May 10 and 11, 2017.

ISSUE

Did Liberty wrongfully determine that Student’s conduct on January 19, 2017, for which he was suspended and expelled, was:

a. Not caused by, or have a direct and substantial relationship to, his disabilities; or
b. Not a direct result of Liberty’s failure to implement his March 2, 2016 individualized education program?\(^1\)

SUMMARY OF DECISION

Student contends that Liberty’s manifestation determination on February 2, 2017, was incorrect because his assault on another student on January 19, 2017, had a direct and substantial relationship to one of his disabilities, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, which leads him to anger, impulsiveness, frustration, and acting out. He also contends that the assault occurred because his behavior intervention plan was not implemented.

Liberty contends that the manifestation determination was correct because Student’s assault was premeditated and caused by tensions following personal conflicts between the students involved, not by Student’s disabilities, which have not in the past led him to aggressive violence.

This Decision holds that there was no direct or substantial relationship between the assault and Student’s ADHD because it was neither impulsive nor foreshadowed by his previous behavior. It also holds that the assault, which occurred outside of class, was not caused by any failure to implement Student’s behavior intervention plan, which applied only to his behavior in class with adults.

FACTUAL FINDINGS

Jurisdiction

1. Student is a seventeen-year-old boy who lives with his Mother within Liberty’s boundaries and receives special education and related services in the category of specific learning disability because of an auditory processing deficit. He has also been diagnosed as having ADHD. He is bright, social, physically healthy, charismatic and a leader among his peers, but he has trouble paying attention and is frequently oppositional and defiant to adults in class. In the last two school years his previously good grades have declined, and, due to frequent absences, tardies and cutting classes, he has been failing most of his courses.

2. In January 2017, Student was in general education classes in the eleventh grade at Liberty’s Heritage High School. On January 19, 2017, he engaged in a physical fight with another student for which he was suspended, recommended for expulsion, and moved to an alternative educational setting. At a manifestation determination meeting on February 2, 2017, Liberty decided that his conduct on January 19 was not caused by, and did not have a direct and substantial relationship to his disabilities, nor was it a direct result of Liberty’s failure to implement his IEP. On April 12, 2017, Liberty’s school board expelled Student but suspended his expulsion on various conditions.

The Fight on January 19, 2017

3. The fight had its origins in a previous incident. On or about January 10, 2017, student Jane Doe (a pseudonym) went to Student’s home, accosted Student’s younger sister about her interest in Doe’s boyfriend John Roe (also a pseudonym), and started an argument, and perhaps a physical fight. Student defended his sister and either hit Doe in the head or slapped her in the process. Student then called Roe and asked whether the two had “a problem,” but Roe told him they did not. Later in the week Student heard a rumor Roe was talking about wanting to fight him, so he called Roe again to ask if the rumor was true, and Roe said “No.”

4. About midday on January 19, 2017, Student was walking across an open area of the campus in front of the Principal’s office, carrying a backpack and wearing headphones. He was suffering from sinus problems, had been excused from class, and was on his way to see the school nurse. Roe approached Student from behind and tapped him on the shoulder. Student turned around, and insults were exchanged. According to Student, Roe put a protective mouthpiece in his mouth to prepare for a fight, but started gagging on it and fell to the ground. According to a Liberty staff member who later interviewed Roe, Roe said he fell because he was ill from anxiety about the impending fight. In any event, there was no evidence that either student hit the other at that time.

5. Alerted by his secretary, Principal Larry Oshodi looked out the window, saw Student in an aggressive posture, and went out to investigate. He saw student Roe on the ground several feet from Student, in distress. Mr. Oshodi took Student into his office, where Student slammed his backpack down angrily. Mr. Oshodi told Student to stay in his office and went back outside to deal with Roe, making sure the door to his office was closed.

6. Mr. Oshodi’s secretary had called campus security, and a security officer arrived in a golf cart. Mr. Oshodi and the officer helped student Roe into the golf cart as two other security officers arrived. But Student, who was looking through the window of the principal’s office, perceived that Roe was insulting him again with facial expressions, gestures or words. Student emerged angrily from the principal’s office and strode aggressively toward Roe, cursing, making threats, ignoring orders to stop, saying “[D]on’t disrespect me like that again,” and appearing intent on attacking Roe. Student Roe responded in kind, stepped off the golf cart, and swung the first punch. A melee ensued during which Student and student Roe hit each other while the four adults tried to separate them. At some point Student’s hoodie was pulled down over his face and he could not see, but he kept swinging wildly and in the process inadvertently hit a security guard several times in the head. Student received several blows from student Roe, but kept fighting so vigorously that it took the four adults two to four minutes to separate the boys. As he was taken into an office, Student yelled: “This isn’t over.”

7. About an hour later, Mr. Oshodi asked Student to explain the incident.
Student declined, but did say something like “He’s not going to do that to me.” Mr. Oshodi tried to calm him down, but Student said “I’m going to do what I’m going to do,” and walked off.

The Suspension and Investigation

8. Liberty suspended Student on the day of the assault and issued a suspension notice that charged him with two violations of the Education Code: “Caused/attempted/threatened physical injury to another person”. (§ 48900, subd. (a)(1)); and “Assault or battery, as defined by Sections 240 and 242 of the Penal Code upon any school employee” (§ 48915, subd. (a)(1)(E).) Assistant Principal Heather Harper began an investigation. Ms. Harper knew Student well, having counseled him several times after behavioral incidents in class.

9. Ms. Harper gathered statements from the participants in the fight and witnesses to it. Student would not talk to her immediately, but furnished a written statement in a day or two. School psychologist Anthony Meehlis brought together the witness accounts, Student’s IEPs, his disciplinary and other records, and statements from his teachers in a written report that was distributed to those who attended the manifestation determination meeting.

The Manifestation Determination

10. On February 2, 2017, Liberty held a manifestation determination meeting attended by several Liberty staff and by Mother, Student, and Student’s attorney. The team considered both the Education Code charges in the suspension notice. The recording of the meeting shows that the team extensively discussed whether there was anything in Student’s

2 Ms. Harper has a master’s degree in education and single subject and administrative credentials. She has taught in three other school districts. Ms. Harper came to Liberty in 2009 to teach biology, and was promoted to Assistant Principal. She has extensive experience in special education and has received a number of recognitions and awards.

3 These statements were introduced in evidence. They were hearsay but explained and supplemented Mr. Oshodi’s direct testimony. (See Cal. Code Regs., tit. 5, § 3082, subd.
previous records to suggest that his disabilities, including ADHD,\(^4\) had caused conduct similar to his conduct on January 19th. Student’s attorney argued that his behavior on January 19th was a consequence of lack of impulse control, foreshadowed by previous incidents, and also perhaps failure to understand instructions. She also argued that Liberty had failed to implement the behavior intervention plan in Student’s IEP. Student spoke up briefly four times, but said nothing about the cause of the fight.

11. The Liberty members of the manifestation determination team unanimously decided that Student’s disabilities did not have a direct or substantial relationship to his conduct on January 19th, and therefore that his conduct was not a manifestation of his disabilities. They also found that Student’s behavior on January 19th was not caused by any failure to implement the behavior intervention plan in his IEP. They memorialized these decisions in a written finding given to Mother the same day. After the meeting, expulsion proceedings were continued, and Student was transferred to a different school.

12. Two weeks after the manifestation determination meeting, Liberty amended the suspension notice to eliminate the charge of striking a school employee, because Ms. Harper had decided at the end of her investigation (but before the manifestation determination meeting) that Student struck the employee only inadvertently. Liberty did not explain at hearing why it waited until well after the manifestation determination to eliminate the second charge.

13. Student’s triennial review was due in March 2017. On February 6, 2017, Liberty offered to finish the triennial assessments “and reconvene the manifestation determination to consider the result and any potential contribution of any new findings to student’s behaviors” if Student would waive the timelines for the upcoming expulsion process to allow time for that reconsideration. Student declined to waive the timeline and declined the offer.

Student’s Previous Behaviors as Predictors

14. Student’s school records and the testimony at hearing both show that Student has long had difficulties paying attention and controlling his tendency to argue with adults in class. In high school he has frequently interrupted classes by blurtling out inappropriate remarks, interrupting others, socializing with other students, and arguing with adults. His most consistent difficulty has been his oppositional attitude. He has refused to follow instructions, challenged policies, and attempted to rally other students against teachers (particularly in their policy of forbidding use of cell phones in class). He responds negatively to any criticism in front of his peers and frequently escalates his verbal behavior

\(^4\) Liberty knew Student had an outside diagnosis of ADHD, but had nothing in its files explaining the potential impact of that condition on Student’s education or behavior. Student’s representatives did not furnish any such information at the meeting. However, the parties appear to agree that for the purpose of this hearing ADHD ought to be considered as one of Student’s disabilities, so the plural “disabilities” is used here.
when that occurs, although he does not threaten or engage in violence. The consensus among his teachers and case manager is that he does this to impress his peers and bring attention to himself.

15. Student’s arguments in class have frequently been accompanied by frustration and anger, and it takes him several minutes to calm down after such an argument. In May 2016 a behavior intervention plan was added to his IEP that emphasizes allowing Student to leave the class briefly when having trouble refraining from arguments, and counseling him in private rather than reprimanding him in front of his peers. The plan set up a “break card” system in which Student could show a card and leave class briefly, and seek counseling if he desired. The plan was directed entirely to in-class verbal behavior and arguments with adults. It does not contain any provision concerning Student’s conduct out of class or with peers. The plan has sometimes been successful and sometimes not.

16. Student’s records and Mother’s testimony support the conclusion that he has difficulty controlling his verbal impulses in class and is quick to anger. He is sometimes slow to understand instructions. He is frequently off task. However, nothing in his previous behavior indicates any tendency toward physical assault. In two and a half years in high school, Student’s disciplinary history shows only two incidents arguably involving violence. In the first, his disciplinary log states that he was suspended for three days in November 2015 for a “fight” before school. Mother testified that the fight was between two students who were late for school, and that Student did not start it. Other than that, there was no evidence from which any conclusion about the November 2015 incident can be drawn. Student was also disciplined once for throwing some pencils at a peer during a class. There was no evidence that either event was related to Student’s disabilities; Mother’s view that Student did not start the fight suggests that the fight had other causes. These events do not constitute a pattern of assaultive violence that would have illustrated the effects of Student’s disabilities or made his conduct on January 19 foreseeable.

Specific Learning Disorder / Auditory Processing Delay

17. Student’s attorney argued at the manifestation determination meeting that it was possible that Student did not hear the principal’s order to remain in his office, to return to his office, or to cease hitting student Roe, or was slow to process these orders, due to his auditory processing disorder. However, there was no evidence at hearing that this was the case, and Student no longer pursues that argument.

Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder

18. Student’s only witnesses at hearing were Mother, several Liberty staff members, and Dr. Jaime Garcia, a well-qualified pediatrician who has monitored Student’s ADHD medication Vyvanse, since 2012. Dr. Garcia sees Student every month for that purpose, or every other month if Student has not had recent problems with the dosage or the medicine.

19. Dr. Garcia confirmed that Student has ADHD/ADD, which implies inattentiveness, distractibility, and impulsivity. He takes Vyvanse primarily for his attentiveness to his academics and to curb any of the impulsivity he might have as a result of his ADHD. The goals of administering it are to balance his brain biochemistry, bring his concentration closer to the norm for his age group, and help him control his impulsivity. The medicine succeeds in those goals, but not always.

20. On January 18, 2017, the day before the fight, Dr. Garcia saw Student for medication monitoring. He also treated Student for sinus infection and coughing that affected him that day. Dr. Garcia testified that his treatment of those conditions would not lessen the effect of Vyvanse; generally sinus infection, coughing, and treatment for those conditions might cause sluggishness or lethargy instead.

21. Dr. Garcia did not address Student’s conduct on January 19th. He was not asked for, and did not state, an opinion on the possible relationship of Student’s ADHD to the disciplinary incident. Nothing in his testimony suggested he was aware of the incident.

22. Dr. James Bylund, a well-qualified and experienced school psychologist, testified about the effect of ADHD on Student’s behavior generally. Dr. Bylund conducted a psychoeducational assessment of Student in February 2017, about a month after the fight, as part of Liberty’s preparation for Student’s triennial review in March. He met with Student on two different days and administered to him a wide variety of standardized tests and other measures such as rating scales. He was unable to observe Student in class because Student was suspended, but he reviewed Student’s health and developmental history and his educational records, interviewed Parents, collected information from teachers, and reviewed previous assessments. He also reviewed Student’s academic and disciplinary records.

5 Dr. Garcia is a 1993 graduate of the University of Southern California Medical School. He spent three years as a general pediatric intern and resident at Children’s Hospital in Oakland, and was invited back for a fourth year to be its chief pediatric resident. Dr. Garcia has extensive experience treating children who have ADHD.

6 Dr. Bylund has a doctorate in educational psychology from Alliant International University and is both a credentialed school psychologist and a state-licensed psychologist. He owns and directs Bylund Neuro-Educational Services, which provides evaluation and consultation to parents and school districts about psychological disorders in children. Dr. Bylund has taught widely and published numerous papers in his field. He also has experience as a program specialist and special education administrator. Dr. Bylund has conducted many assessments of students who are or may be disabled.
23. From his assessment, Dr. Bylund concluded that Student may no longer qualify for special education due to an auditory processing disorder, but does qualify in the category of other health impaired due to his ADHD. He also concluded that Student’s oppositional and defiant behaviors in class function as a way of bringing attention to himself and obtaining positive reinforcement from his peers.

24. Dr. Bylund established that Student displays both the inattentive and attentive forms of ADHD. The former leads him to have difficulty attending to details, sustaining attention, appearing not to listen, and completing tasks. The latter leads Student to have difficulty remaining still or seated in class, to interrupt others, and to talk excessively.

25. He explained that Student also displays characteristics that are not core characteristics of ADHD, although many young people with ADHD also display them. These characteristics inhibit Student’s emotional regulation and include a short temper, a tendency to argue with authority figures, and a tendency not to comply with something required of him. There may be many variables leading to these characteristics other than ADHD, and many teenage boys are oppositional without having ADHD. Student’s ADHD does not define him.

26. Dr. Bylund stressed that a disability such as ADHD would be expected to manifest across environments and over time; there are no six-hour disabilities. If Student’s poor impulse control led to physical aggression, Dr. Bylund would expect to see it in his records over time and across settings such as school, home, and the outside community. There would be a consistent pattern of it. Dr. Bylund did not find such a pattern in Student’s records. Student did not present any evidence to the contrary.

27. He also observed that Student’s typical oppositional behavior is not impulsive, such as the repeated incidences in his records of refusing to take his hat off or surrender his cell phone.

28. Liberty also presented four witnesses who spoke directly to the relationship between Student’s conduct on January 19th and his disabilities. Anthony Meehlis is an experienced school psychologist employed by Liberty at Heritage. He attended the manifestation determination meeting after assembling and writing a report on Student’s school history for the meeting. He opined at hearing that there was no relationship between Student’s conduct on January 19th and his disabilities. Student did have a record of impulsivity, which is acting without thinking, but his qualifying disability was specific learning disorder occasioned by an auditory processing problem. Anger is not a disability and can occur with or without a disability. The manifestation determination team accepted that Student had a diagnosis of ADHD but did not think the fight on January 19th was foreshadowed by or consistent with his previous behaviors.

29. Patricia Wright, a teacher with extensive special education experience, has been Student’s teacher in his tutorial support class, which is akin to a resource room. She is also Student’s case manager. Her experience with Student has led her to conclude that his behavioral difficulties occur in the classroom and involve confrontations with adults. For example, last September he was disciplined for disobedience for refusing to surrender his cell phone to a teacher. The behavior support plan was added to his IEP in March 2016 was intended to address his behavior in class with adults. Ms. Wright has counseled Student privately after incidents in which he left the classroom in anger or frustration, as the plan permits, and went outside briefly to cool down. That usually takes him about five minutes, or sometimes longer. In Ms. Wright’s experiences after the behavior plan was adopted, its application was usually successful in calming student and allowing him to return to class.

30. Ms. Wright testified that in her extensive experience with children who are impulsive, they make a quick uncalculated decision to hurt somebody and afterward are unable to explain what they did or should have done. Student’s confrontations in the classroom are not impulsive; they are progressive. She pointed out that his oppositional behavior occurs only in the classrooms of teachers he does not like or respect; in the classes of teachers he likes, that behavior does not occur.

31. Ms. Wright attended the manifestation determination meeting and remembered that the IEP team did not dispute Student’s diagnosis of ADHD; instead, its possible effect on Student’s conduct was discussed. But she concluded at the meeting that his previous behaviors at school were not in any way predictive of his behavior on January 19th, which was not the sort of behavior addressed by his behavior intervention plan. Ms. Wright concluded at the meeting that Student’s behavior on January 19th was not the product of his disabilities.

32. Assistant Principal Harper has been a counselor to Student in his 4-person Small Learning Community, and has counseled him after several classroom incidents. She explained that his behavior intervention plan discourages staff from criticizing him in front of his peers because that usually causes him to escalate. Its overall purposes are to enable him to return to class so he does not miss instruction, and to assist him when he has difficulty with classroom rules. In her experience, Ms. Harper does not view Student as acting impulsively; his oppositional behavior usually involved being instructed to do something he does not want to do, like take off his hat or surrender his cell phone. He has not been regularly assaultive on campus and his escalations of verbal conflict have not led to violence.

8 Ms. Wright received a master’s degree in special education from the University of the Pacific in 1992 and has multi-subject, learning handicapped and special education credentials. She has taught in several school districts and spent 17 years teaching a special day class for the Castro Valley Unified School District. She has also taught at the nonprofit Spectrum Center, where she encountered many children with serious emotional and behavioral difficulties.

33. Ms. Harper remembers discussing the possible effect of Student’s ADHD on his behavior on January 19th at the manifestation determination meeting. She concluded from the discussion that there was no direct relationship between that behavior and his ADHD.

34. John Saylor, Liberty’s Director of Special Services, chaired the manifestation determination meeting. He confirmed at hearing that the team discussed the possible effect of Student’s ADHD on his behavior, and also discussed whether his behavior had been previously seen at school or in other places. Like the other Liberty members of the team, he did not see any connection between Student’s disabilities and previous behaviors and his conduct on January 19th.

35. The testimony of Dr. Bylund, Mr. Meehlis, Ms. Wright, Ms. Harper, and Mr. Saylor was convincing. Each knew the details of Student’s disabilities and his conduct, testified with clarity, testified consistently with contemporary records, and was not undermined by cross-examination. Collectively their testimony was credible and is given substantial weight here.

36. Mother was the only witness at hearing who saw a connection between Student’s ADHD and his disabilities. She testified that he suffers from sensory overload, has a diminished ability to regulate his behavior, and gets upset quickly. He would regard a tap on the shoulder more like a punch.

37. Mother testified she disagreed with the manifestation determination because Student has “an impulse issue and an auditory issue” and that the principal did not give him appropriate time to calm himself down before he reacted quickly to the boy on the ground. She believes that Student’s behavior implementation plan was not properly followed on January 19th because district personnel were aware of his past impulse and behavior issues and that day “it could have been approached differently.” Mother’s information about the incident came entirely from Student. No other witness supported her views.

Student’s Perspective

38. In his written statement submitted a day or two after the fight, Student attributed the event to the animosity between student Roe and himself. He accidentally hit the campus security guard and freely apologized for that, but he did not express any remorse for hitting Roe, or for the incident itself. Nor did he mention anything about the possible effect of his disabilities on the event.

9 Mr. Saylor has a master’s degree in psychology and pupil personnel services and administrative credentials. He is also credentialed as a school psychologist, and worked in that capacity for Liberty from 2000 to 2005, when he was promoted to his present position.
39. Student attended the manifestation determination meeting and for the most part listened quietly while the others discussed whether he could have heard instructions to stay in the principal’s office and stop fighting, and whether impulsiveness related to his ADHD had played a role in the events. He spoke up briefly four times about his dislike of the card system that was part of his behavior plan, his tardies, and his accommodations. His only mention of the fight was a single statement about being four feet away from Roe and not sitting down. He said nothing about the effect of his disabilities on his conduct, did not claim he could not hear instructions, and did not claim he acted on impulse.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Introduction: Legal Framework for Student Discipline under the IDEA

1. This hearing was held under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, its regulations, and California statutes and regulations intended to implement it. (20 U.S.C. § 1400 et. seq.; 34 C.F.R. § 300.1 et seq.; Ed. Code, § 56000, et seq.; Cal. Code. Regs., tit. 5, § 3000 et seq.)(2006). The main purposes of the IDEA are: (1) to ensure that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education that emphasizes special education and related services designed to meet their unique needs and prepare them for employment and independent living, and (2) to ensure that the rights of children with disabilities and their parents are protected. (20 U.S.C. § 1400(d)(1); See Ed. Code, § 56000, subd. (a).)

2. Title 20 United States Code section 1415(k) and title 34 Code of Federal Regulations, part 300.530 et seq., govern the discipline of special education students. (Ed. Code, § 48915.5.) A student receiving special education services may be suspended or expelled from school as provided by federal law. (Ed. Code, § 48915.5, subd. (a).) If a special education student violates a code of student conduct, the local educational agency may remove the student from his or her educational placement to an appropriate interim alternative educational setting, another setting, or suspension, for not more than 10 school days (to the extent such alternatives are applied to children without disabilities.) (20 U.S.C. § 1415(k)(1)(B); 34 C.F.R. § 300.530(b)(1).) A local educational agency is required to provide services during periods of removal to a child with a disability who has been removed from his or her current placement for 10 school days or less in that school year, if it provides services to a child without disabilities who is similarly removed. (34 C.F.R. § 300.530(d)(3).) If a special education student violates a code of conduct and the local educational agency changes the educational placement of the student for more than 10 days the local educational agency must meet the requirements of section 1415(k).

10 Unless otherwise indicated, the legal citations in the introduction are incorporated by reference into the analysis of each issue decided below.

11 All references to the Federal Regulations are to the 2006 version unless otherwise specified.
3. Parents and local educational agencies may request an expedited due process hearing of claims based upon a disciplinary change of educational placement under section 1415(k). An expedited hearing must be conducted within 20 school days of the date an expedited due process hearing request is filed, and a decision must be rendered within 10 school days after the hearing ends. (20 U.S.C. § 1415(k)(4)(B); 34 C.F.R. § 300.532(c)(2).)

4. The party requesting a due process hearing is limited to the issues alleged in the complaint, unless the other party consents. (20 U.S.C. § 1415(f)(3)(B); 34 C.F.R. § 300.511(d).) At the hearing, the party filing the complaint has the burden of persuasion by a preponderance of the evidence. (Schaffer v. Weast (2005) 546 U.S. 49, 62 [126 S.Ct. 528, 163 L.Ed.2d 387]; see 20 U.S.C. § 1415(i)(2)(C)(iii).)

Issue: Was Liberty’s Manifestation Determination Correct?

RELATIONSHIP OF STUDENT’S CONDUCT TO HIS DISABILITIES

5. Student contends that his fight with John Roe on January 19, 2017, was caused by or directly related to his ADHD. Liberty contends that his conduct was unrelated to his disability because he had no history of such outbreaks; his conduct was not impulsive; and that the sustained nature of the act, in the context of his ongoing dispute with John Roe, was different in kind from the sort of impulsiveness or anger to which ADHD can contribute.

6. A student’s conduct is a manifestation of his disability: (i) if the conduct in question was caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, the child's disability; or (ii) if the conduct in question was the direct result of the local education agency's failure to implement his IEP. (34 C.F.R. § 300.530(e)(i) & (ii).) In Doe v. Maher (9th Cir. 1986) 793 F.2d 1470, 1480, fn. 8, affd. sub nom. Honig v. Doe (1988) 484 U.S. 305 [98 L.Ed.2d 686], the Ninth Circuit held that “conduct that is a manifestation of the child’s handicap” occurs “only if the handicap significantly impairs the child’s behavioral controls . . . . it does not embrace conduct that bears only an attenuated relationship to the child’s handicap . . . .”

7. The evidence did not show that Student’s conduct was caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, his disabilities. Mother was the only witness who connected the two, and her testimony, though motivated by love and concern, did not clearly demonstrate a relationship between Student’s conduct and his ADHD. Mother testified there was such a relationship because Liberty knew Student had “an impulse issue and an auditory issue.” Impulsiveness is not a disability; it is only one characteristic that appears sometimes in some children who have ADHD. Student’s specific learning disability does stem from his auditory processing deficit, but there was no evidence his difficulty with auditory processing had anything to do with his conduct. He was alone in the principal’s office when he decided to leave it and attack John Doe.

8. For the several reasons that follow, the evidence at hearing independently supported the conclusion that Student’s conduct on January 19th was not caused by, nor did it have a direct and substantial relationship to, either his auditory processing deficit or his ADHD.

9. Student’s behavior on January 19th was not impulsive. It is possible to speculate that his decision to leave the principal’s office and attack John Roe was impulsive, though there was no evidence that it was. To the contrary, the evidence showed he left the office because he thought Roe “disrespected” him. In any event, it is not accurate to characterize Student’s next actions as impulsive, which Mr. Meehlis defined at hearing as acting without thinking. Student had ample time to think about his conduct as he charged toward student Roe issuing curses and threats, ignored the orders of all adults to cease, and fought Roe so hard that it took two to four minutes for the four adults present to separate the boys. Even an hour later he was still angry and impliedly threatened further action against Roe. These actions show sustained rage rather than impulsive conduct.

10. Liberty presented substantial credible evidence, in the form of the opinions of Mr. Meehlis, Ms. Wright, Ms. Harper, and Mr. Saylor, that Student’s conduct on January 19, 2017, was not related to his disabilities. Except for Mother’s testimony, Student presented no evidence to contradict their opinions. Dr. Garcia, the only professional who testified for Student, did not address the question presented here.

11. There is a clear, specific, and persuasive explanation for Student’s conduct that is unrelated to his disabilities. The confrontation between the two boys had been building for a week. Student was subject to serious provocation by Roe, who sought him out, came up behind him, tapped him on the shoulder, insulted him, threatened a fight, and put a protective mouthpiece in his mouth. These facts do not justify Student’s subsequent conduct, but they do explain its origins.

12. Student’s previous behavior does not show a pattern of assaultive conduct. Though Student has had ADHD for years, it had not driven him to assault anyone before January 19th. Dr. Bylund was convincing in establishing that, if Student’s ADHD led to assaultive behavior, a pattern of such behavior would appear in previous years and across settings. The evidence showed no such pattern existed. Student presented no evidence about the “fight” in November 2015 except the bare entry in Student’s disciplinary log and Mother’s testimony that two boys fought at the start of school but Student did not start it. This is insufficient to show that the incident was serious or that it had anything to do with his disabilities. That and a pencil-throwing incident, throughout two and a half years of high school, do not make up the sort of pattern of violence that Dr. Bylund persuasively testified would appear if ADHD impelled Student to assaultive behavior. And Student’s verbal outbursts of argumentative anger in class appear only in some classes in which he does not like the teacher, not in all of them, which strongly suggests that it is not disability-driven.

13. Student, in his closing brief, is not persuasive in equating his reported impulsiveness in class (interrupting, blurting out inappropriate remarks, and the like) with his conduct on January 19th; none of those earlier events involved sustained rage or violence. In arguing that his conduct on January 19th was predicted by his past behavior, Student fails entirely to distinguish between violent and nonviolent conduct, or between the sort of anger that leads to an argument and the sort of anger that leads to an assault. Thus Student’s claims that his conduct on January 19th was part of a pattern of impulsiveness and anger, and was so “predictable” that Liberty should have known to put a guard with him in the principal’s office and put him somewhere without a window, are without support in the record.

14. There was no evidence that Student himself believes there was any connection between his conduct and his disabilities. His hostile statements soon after the fight (“He’s not going to do that to me” and “I’m going to do what I’m going to do”) displayed a personal animosity toward student Roe, not an impulsive, disability-related reaction. His written explanation of the incident also supported the conclusion that it occurred because of his hostile relationship with Roe, not because he had a sudden impulse or failed to hear anything. Student is 17 years old, intelligent and articulate. He could have claimed to the manifestation determination team that his disabilities caused his conduct, but he chose not to do so.

15. Student argues that his conduct on January 19th was self-defense; that the manifestation determination team should have found it was self-defense; and that such a finding “would nullify both conduct charges and cancel the manifestation determination review.” No evidence supported that conclusion. Assistant Principal Harper established that Students are disciplined even when they engage in self-defense; it is regarded as part of “mutual combat” under the code of student conduct. The fact that Roe swung the first punch did not relieve Student of his own violations. A finding of self-defense, even if appropriate, would not have relieved Student of charges of violating the code of student conduct.

16. In addition, it is inaccurate to characterize Student’s course of conduct on January 19th as self-defense. Roe’s original challenge went no further than a tap on the shoulder; then Roe for some reason fell to the ground sick. Principal Oshodi successfully had separated the two boys, and he and a security guard had helped Roe to get up and get on the golf cart. That portion of the incident was over, although the effects of the argument and the insults were not. It was Student who re-opened hostilities by charging out of the principal’s office cursing and threatening Roe, with the obvious intent of attacking him. The fact that Roe got off the cart and swung the first punch is minor in comparison to Student’s instigation of the confrontation, and when that first punch was thrown Student did not retreat; he kept trying to attack Roe for two to four minutes. This went far beyond defending himself from one punch. The incident was a single event from Roe’s shoulder-tapping to the end, and certainly Student was provoked. Nonetheless, the portion of the event that actually led to combat was instigated by Student.

17. Student faults the manifestation determination team for relying on assessments from Student’s fifth and eighth grades rather than conducting a new assessment before the manifestation determination meeting. However, the team’s obligation was to review the information that existed, not to create new information. (20 U.S.C. §1415(k)(1)(E); 34 C.F.R. § 300.530(e).) As Mr. Meehlis pointed out, a manifestation determination review must occur within 10 days of a decision to change the student’s placement, which leaves insufficient time for assessment. Liberty did offer to re-open the manifestation determination after the triennial assessments, but Student declined. And Student does not identify anything a new assessment might have shown that would likely have changed the outcome of the manifestation determination.

18. The record does not show why Liberty did not amend the suspension notice earlier in order to drop the charge of assaulting an employee before the manifestation determination, which would have been the better practice. Student argues, however, that if Liberty had done so the result would have been different. No evidence supports that conclusion. Ms. Harper testified that she and the team would have come to the same conclusion in the absence of the second charge because their decision was based on the same course of conduct, whether there were two charges or only one. This testimony was persuasive; Student’s underlying behavior was the same whether his wild blows while blinded by the hoodie struck John Roe or someone else. Student did not prove that Liberty’s tardiness in amending the suspension notice had any effect on the outcome of the manifestation determination, and on this record it is quite unlikely that it did.

19. Student argues, without evidentiary support, that if the manifestation determination meeting had proceeded without the charge of assaulting an employee, he would have been suspended for five days as Roe was, rather than expelled. This is only speculation, and it incorrectly assumes that the two boys were equally culpable; the evidence showed they were not. Roe’s original tap-on-the-shoulder challenge was not accompanied by violence and came to nothing. The fight by the golf cart was instigated and maintained by Student and led to serious violence and injury. That speculation also disregards the prospect that there may have been other reasons for the level of discipline selected for Roe, which the confidentiality of Roe’s records would have prohibited Liberty from mentioning.

20. For the reasons above, the manifestation determination was correct. Student’s conduct on January 19, 2017, was not caused by, and did not have a direct and substantial relationship to, Student’s disabilities. It was sustained and mostly premeditated rather than impulsive, and was the product of student Roe’s animosity toward him and his response.

IMPLEMENTATION OF BEHAVIOR PLAN

21. Student argues that his conduct was also the consequence of Liberty’s failure to implement the behavior intervention plan in his March 2, 2016 IEP. Mother testified that the incident could have been avoided if only Mr. Oshodi had allowed Student time to cool off.

22. A student’s violation of a code of student conduct may also be a manifestation of his disability if the conduct was the direct result of the local education agency's failure to implement his IEP. (34 C.F.R. § 300.530(e)(1)(ii).)
23. Student argues that “[t]here was no data to show whether the IEP’s behavior plan was implement correctly.” This disregards the fact that the burden of proof was on Student to show that it was not.

24. Student also argues that there were several flaws in the behavior plan: that it was insufficiently detailed; that it was over-reliant on Student to develop his own strategies for self-control; and that it should have required teaching him more and different coping skills. These arguments are premature; they are pertinent to the non-expedited hearing, not this expedited hearing. The only issue here is whether the behavior plan, as written, was in fact implemented, not whether it could have been a better plan.

25. Student’s argument that the behavior plan should have been distributed widely to administrators and campus security is unpersuasive. The plan solely addressed Student’s conduct in class with adults. It contained no provision about his interaction with peers, and no provision for any contingency outside of class. Student’s closing brief does not identify any particular provision of the plan that should have been applied, and on the face of the plan there was no such provision.

26. The plan did generally employ the strategy of removing Student from a tense situation and letting him cool off, and Mr. Oshodi was aware that such a strategy was being used with Student. His act in removing Student from the situation and putting him in his office with instructions to remain there was entirely consistent with the general strategy of the behavior plan. The fact that the strategy was ineffective on this occasion does not mean that the plan was not followed. Student’s rage was so pronounced that it was extremely unlikely anything Mr. Oshodi could have done short of physical restraint would have been effective, and Student produced no evidence that he would have done anything differently if a different strategy had been used.

27. Student did not prove that his conduct on January 19, 2017, was related to any failure to implement his IEP.

ORDER

1. The manifestation determination of February 2, 2017, that Student’s conduct on January 19, 2017, was not a manifestation of his disabilities is affirmed.

2. All relief sought by Student from the expedited hearing is denied.
PREVAILING PARTY

Pursuant to California Education Code section 56507, subdivision (d), the hearing decision must indicate the extent to which each party has prevailed on each issue heard and decided. Here, Liberty prevailed on the sole issue decided.

RIGHT TO APPEAL

This Decision is the final administrative determination and is binding on all parties. (Ed. Code, § 56505, subd. (h).) Any party has the right to appeal this Decision to a court of competent jurisdiction within 90 days of receiving it. (Ed. Code, § 56505, subd. (k).)

§§ 300.521–300.529 [Reserved]

Discipline Procedures

§ 300.530 Authority of school personnel.

(a) Case-by-case determination.

School personnel may consider any unique circumstances on a case-by-case basis when determining whether a change in placement, consistent with the other requirements of this section, is appropriate for a child with a disability who violates a code of student conduct.

(b) General.

School personnel, under this section may remove a child with a disability who violates a code of student conduct from his or her current placement to an appropriate interim alternative educational setting, another setting, or suspension, for not more than 10 consecutive school days (to the extent those alternatives are applied to children without disabilities), and for additional removals of not more than 10 consecutive school days in that same school year for separate incidents of misconduct (as long as those removals do not constitute a change of placement under § 300.536).

(2) After a child with a disability has been removed from his or her current placement for 10 school days in the same school year, during any subsequent days of removal the public agency must provide services to the extent required under paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) Additional authority.

For disciplinary changes in placement that would exceed 10 consecutive school days, if the behavior that gave rise to the violation of the school code is determined not to be a manifestation of the child’s disability pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section, school personnel may apply the relevant disciplinary procedures to children with disabilities in the same manner and for the same duration as the procedures would be applied to children without disabilities, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Services.

(1) A child with a disability who is removed from the child’s current placement pursuant to paragraphs (c), or (g) of this section must—

(i) Continue to receive educational services, as provided in § 300.101(a), so as to enable the child to continue to participate in the general education curriculum, although in another setting, and to progress toward meeting the goals set out in the child’s IEP; and

(ii) Receive, as appropriate, a functional behavioral assessment, and behavioral intervention services and modifications, that are designed to address the behavior violation so that it does not recur.

(2) The services required by paragraph (d)(1), (d)(3), (d)(4), and (d)(5) of this section may be provided in an interim alternative educational setting.

(3) A public agency is only required to provide services during periods of removal to a child with a disability who has been removed from his or her current placement for 10 school days or less in that school year, if it provides services to a child without disabilities who is similarly removed.

(4) After a child with a disability has been removed from his or her current placement for 10 school days in the same school year, if the current removal is for not more than 10 consecutive school days and is not a change of placement under § 300.536, school personnel, in consultation with at least one of the child’s teachers, determine the extent to which services are needed, as provided in § 300.101(a), so as to enable the child to continue to participate in the general education curriculum, although in another setting, and to progress toward meeting the goals set out in the child’s IEP.

(5) If the removal is a change of placement under § 300.536, the child’s IEP Team determines appropriate services under paragraph (d)(1) of this section.

(e) Manifestation determination.

(1) Within 10 school days of any decision to change the placement of a child with a disability because of a violation of a code of student conduct, the LEA, the parent, and relevant members of the child’s IEP Team (as determined by the parent and the LEA) must review all relevant information in the student’s file, including the child’s IEP, any teacher observations, and any relevant information provided by the parents to determine—

(i) If the conduct in question was caused by, or had a direct and substantial relationship to, the child’s disability; or

(ii) If the conduct in question was the direct result of the LEA’s failure to implement the IEP.

(2) The conduct must be determined to be a manifestation of the child’s disability if the LEA, the parent, and relevant members of the child’s IEP Team determine that a condition described in either paragraph (e)(1)(i) or (1)(ii) of this section was met.

(3) If the LEA, the parent, and relevant members of the child’s IEP Team determine the condition described in paragraph (e)(1)(i) or (1)(ii) of this section was met, the LEA must take immediate steps to remedy those deficiencies.

(f) Determination that behavior was a manifestation. If the LEA, the parent, and relevant members of the IEP Team make the determination that the conduct was a manifestation of the child’s disability, the IEP Team must—

(1) Either—

(i) Conduct a functional behavioral assessment, unless the LEA had conducted a functional behavioral assessment before the behavior that resulted in the change of placement occurred, and implement a behavioral intervention plan for the child; or

(ii) If a behavioral intervention plan already has been developed, review the behavioral intervention plan, and modify it, as necessary, to address the behavior; and

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (g) of this section, return the child to the placement from which the child was removed, unless the parent and the LEA agree to a change of placement as part of the modification of the behavioral intervention plan.

(g) Special circumstances.

School personnel may remove a student to an interim alternative educational setting for not more than 45 school days without regard to whether the behavior is determined to be a manifestation of the child’s disability, if the child—

(1) Carries a weapon to or possesses a weapon at school, on school premises, or to or at a school function under the jurisdiction of an SEA or an LEA;

(2) Knowingly possesses or uses illegal drugs, or sells or solicits the sale of a controlled substance, while at school, on school premises, or at a school function under the jurisdiction of an SEA or an LEA; or

(3) Has inflicted serious bodily injury upon another person while at school, on school premises, or at a school function under the jurisdiction of an SEA or an LEA.

(h) Notification. On the date on which the decision is made to make a removal that constitutes a change of placement of a child with a disability because of a violation of a code of student conduct, the LEA must notify the parents of that decision, and provide the parents the procedural safeguards notice described in § 300.504.

(i) Definitions. For purposes of this section, the following definitions apply:

(1) Controlled substance means a drug or other substance identified under schedules I, II, III, IV, or V in section.
202(c) of the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 812(c)).

[2] Illegal drug means a controlled substance; but does not include a controlled substance that is legally possessed or used under the supervision of a licensed health-care professional or that is legally possessed or used under any other authority under that Act or under any other provision of Federal law.

(3) Serious bodily injury has the meaning given the term “serious bodily injury” under paragraph (3) of subsection (b) of section 1365 of title 18, United States Code.

(4) Weapon has the meaning given the term “dangerous weapon” under paragraph (2) of the first subsection (g) of section 930 of title 18, United States Code.

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 1415(k)(1) and (7))

§ 300.531 Determination of setting.

The child’s IEP Team determines the interim alternative educational setting for services under §§ 300.530(c), (d)(5), and (g).

(Authority: 20 U.S.C. 1415(k)(2))

§ 300.532 Appeal.

(a) General. The parent of a child with a disability who disagrees with any decision regarding placement under §§ 300.530 and 300.531, or the manifestation determination under § 300.530(e), or an LEA that believes that maintaining the current placement of the child is substantially likely to result in injury to the child or others, may appeal the decision by requesting a hearing.

(b) Authority of hearing officer. (1) A hearing officer under §300.511 hears, and makes a determination regarding an appeal under paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) In making the determination under paragraph (b)(1) of this section, the hearing officer may—

(i) Return the child with a disability to the placement from which the child was removed if the hearing officer determines that the removal was a violation of §300.530 or that the child’s behavior was a manifestation of the child’s disability; or

(ii) Order a change of placement of the child with a disability to an appropriate interim alternative educational setting for not more than 45 school days if the hearing officer determines that maintaining the current placement of the child is substantially likely to result in injury to the child or to others.

(c) Expedited due process hearing. (1) Whenever a hearing is requested under paragraph (a) of this section, the parents or the LEA involved in the dispute must have an opportunity for an impartial due process hearing consistent with the requirements of §§300.507 and 300.508(a) through (c) and §§300.510 through 300.514, except as provided in paragraph (c)(2) through (4) of this section.

(2) The SEA or LEA is responsible for arranging the expedited due process hearing, which must occur within 20 school days of the date the complaint requesting the hearing is filed. The hearing officer must make a determination within 10 school days after the hearing.

(3) Unless the parents and LEA agree in writing to waive the resolution meeting described in paragraph (c)(3)(i) of this section, or agree to use the mediation process described in §300.506—

(i) A resolution meeting must occur within seven days of receiving notice of the due process complaint; and

(ii) The due process hearing may proceed unless the matter has been resolved to the satisfaction of both parties within 15 days of the receipt of the due process complaint.

(4) A State may establish different State-imposed procedural rules for expedited due process hearings conducted under this section than it has established for other due process hearings, but, except for the timelines as modified in paragraph (c)(3) of this section, the State must ensure that the requirements in §§300.510 through 300.514 are met.

(5) The decisions on expedited due process hearings are appealable consistent with §300.514.

§ 300.533 Placement during appeals.

When an appeal under §300.532 has been made by either the parent or the LEA, the child must remain in the interim alternative educational setting pending the decision of the hearing officer or until the expiration of the time period specified in §A300.530(c) or (g), whichever occurs first, unless the parent and the SEA or LEA agree otherwise.

§ 300.534 Protections for children not determined eligible for special education and related services.

(a) General. A child who has not been determined to be eligible for special education and related services under this part and who has engaged in behavior that violated a code of student conduct, may assert any of the protections provided for in this part if the public agency had knowledge (as determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section) that the child was a child with a disability before the behavior that precipitated the disciplinary action occurred.

(b) Basis of knowledge. A public agency must be deemed to have knowledge that a child is a child with a disability if before the behavior that precipitated the disciplinary action occurred—

(1) The parent of the child expressed concern in writing to supervisory or administrative personnel of the appropriate educational agency, or a teacher of the child, that the child is in need of special education and related services;

(2) The parent of the child requested an evaluation of the child pursuant to §§300.300 through 300.311; or

(3) The teacher of the child, or other personnel of the LEA, expressed specific concerns about a pattern of behavior demonstrated by the child directly to the director of special education of the agency or to other supervisory personnel of the agency.

(c) Exception. A public agency would not be deemed to have knowledge under paragraph (b) of this section if—

(1) The parent of the child—

(i) Has not allowed an evaluation of the child pursuant to §§300.300 through 300.311; or

(ii) Has refused services under this part; or

(2) The child has been evaluated in accordance with §§300.300 through 300.311 and determined not to be a child with a disability under this part.

(d) Conditions that apply if no basis of knowledge. (1) If a public agency does not have knowledge that a child is a child with a disability (in accordance with paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section) prior to taking disciplinary measures against the child, the child may be subjected to the disciplinary measures applied to children without disabilities who engage in comparable behaviors consistent with paragraph (d)(2) of this section.

(2)(i) If a request is made for an evaluation of a child during the time period in which the child is subjected to disciplinary measures under § 300.530, the evaluation must be conducted in an expedited manner.

(ii) Until the evaluation is completed, the child remains in the educational placement determined by school authorities, which can include suspension or expulsion without educational services.

(iii) If the child is determined to be a child with a disability, taking into consideration information from the evaluation conducted by the agency and information provided by the parents, the agency must provide special education and related services in accordance with this part, including the requirements of §§ 300.530 through 300.536 and section 612(a)(1)(A) of the Act.

§ 300.535 Referral to and action by law enforcement and judicial authorities.

(a) Rule of construction. Nothing in this part prohibits an agency from reporting a crime committed by a child with a disability to appropriate authorities or prevents State law enforcement and judicial authorities from exercising their responsibilities with regard to the application of Federal and State law to crimes committed by a child with a disability.

(b) Transmittal of records. (1) An agency reporting a crime committed by a child with a disability must ensure that copies of the special education and disciplinary records of the child are transmitted for consideration by the appropriate authorities to whom the agency reports the crime.

(2) An agency reporting a crime under this section may transmit copies of the child’s special education and disciplinary records only to the extent that the transmission is permitted by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

§ 300.536 Change of placement because of disciplinary removals.

(a) For purposes of removals of a child with a disability from the child’s current educational placement under §§ 300.530 through 300.535, a change of placement occurs if—

(1) The removal is for more than 10 consecutive school days; or

(2) The child has been subjected to a series of removals that constitute a pattern—

(i) Because the series of removals total more than 10 school days in a school year; and

(ii) Because the child’s behavior is substantially similar to the child’s behavior in previous incidents that resulted in the series of removals; and

(iii) Because of such additional factors as the length of each removal, the total amount of time the child has been removed, and the proximity of the removals to one another.

(b)(1) The public agency determines on a case-by-case basis whether a pattern of removals constitutes a change of placement.

(2) This determination is subject to review through due process and judicial proceedings.

§ 300.537 State enforcement mechanisms.

Notwithstanding §§ 300.506(b)(7) and 300.510(d)(2), which provide for judicial enforcement of a written agreement reached as a result of mediation or a resolution meeting, there is nothing in this part that would prevent the SEA from using other mechanisms to seek enforcement of that agreement, provided that use of those mechanisms is not mandatory and does not delay or deny a party the right to seek enforcement of the written agreement in a State court of competent jurisdiction or in a district court of the United States.

§§ 300.538–300.599 [Reserved]

Subpart F—Monitoring, Enforcement, Confidentiality, and Program Information

Monitoring, Technical Assistance, and Enforcement

§ 300.600 State monitoring and enforcement.

(a) The State must monitor the implementation of this part, enforce this part in accordance with § 300.604(a)(1) and (a)(3), (b)(2)(i) and (b)(2)(v), and (c)(2), and annually report on performance under this part.

(b) The primary focus of the State’s monitoring activities must be on—

(1) Improving educational results and functional outcomes for all children with disabilities; and

(2) Ensuring that public agencies meet the program requirements under Part B of the Act, with a particular emphasis on those requirements that are most closely related to improving educational results for children with disabilities.

(c) As a part of its responsibilities under paragraph (a) of this section, the State must use quantifiable indicators and such qualitative indicators as are needed to adequately measure performance in the priority areas identified in paragraph (d) of this section, and the indicators established by the Secretary for the State performance plans.

(d) The State must monitor the LEAs located in the State, using quantifiable indicators in each of the following priority areas, and using such qualitative indicators as are needed to adequately measure performance in those areas:

(1) Provision of FAPE in the least restrictive environment.

(2) State exercise of general supervision, including child find, effective monitoring, the use of resolution meetings, mediation, and a system of transition services as defined in § 300.43 and in 20 U.S.C. 1437(a)(9).

(3) Disproportionate representation of racial and ethnic groups in special education and related services, to the extent the representation is the result of inappropriate identification.

§ 300.601 State performance plans and data collection.

(a) General. Not later than December 3, 2005, each State must have in place a performance plan that evaluates the State’s efforts to implement the requirements and purposes of Part B of the Act, and describes how the State will improve such implementation.

(1) Each State must submit the State’s performance plan to the Secretary for approval in accordance with the approval process described in section 616(c) of the Act.

(2) Each State must review its State performance plan at least once every six years, and submit any amendments to the Secretary.

(3) As part of the State performance plan, each State must establish measurable and rigorous targets for the indicators established by the Secretary under the priority areas described in § 300.600(d).

(b) Data collection. (1) Each State must collect valid and reliable information as needed to report annually to the Secretary on the indicators established by the Secretary for the State performance plans.

(2) If the Secretary permits States to collect data on specific indicators through State monitoring or sampling, and the State collects the data through State monitoring or sampling, the State must collect data on those indicators for each LEA at least once during the period of the State performance plan.

(3) Nothing in Part B of the Act shall be construed to authorize the development of a nationwide database of personally identifiable information.
