W H O :  ALL General & Special Educators, Site, District, SELPA, COE Specialists & Administrators, Parents & Community Stakeholders

W H A T :  Visit the site to access free training resources, scaffolds and process-related tools specially curated and created to support educators as they implement:
● Universal Design for Learning
● Assistive Technology, and
● Augmentative & Alternative Communication

W H Y :  Providing educators with on-demand resources will enable them to explore and integrate new ideas and strategies as we work towards making learning accessible to all.

Use the site to...

Explore  foundational information and links to valuable resources that support best practices in UDL, AT and AAC.

Connect  by visiting our BLOG page and reading about current trends and ramblings from our Open Access team. Follow us on Twitter to hear about upcoming events & activities. Join us on Learning Designed, CAST and UDL-IRN’s digital platform to connect with the growing UDL Community.

Dive Deeper  into our UDL, AT and AAC FlipKits. These are repositories of vetted strategies and tools, organized to give educators quick access to both information and direct links to vendor sites. Each are selected by our UDL, AT and AAC specialists to help meet the needs of a variety of learners.

Interested in participating in a capacity building project, where we bring a “training of training” model including comprehensive training and coaching resources to a regional or SELPA team? Check out the “Capacity Building Projects” tab on the website for more information.