Discover the pioneering work that Deborah Watkins-Bruner, PhD, RN, FAAN, has accomplished in women’s sexual health. Bruner holds a dual appointment as a professor of nursing at the Emory University Nell Hodgson Woodruff School of Nursing in Atlanta, GA, and as associate director of cancer outcomes at the Winship Cancer Institute of Emory University.

Target Audience: All Levels

Level of Content: Intermediate

Speaker:
Deborah Watkins-Bruner, PhD, RN, FAAN
Professor of Nursing
Emory’s Nell Hodgson Wodruff School of Nursing
Associate Director of Cancer Outcomes
Winship Cancer Institute of Emory University
Atlanta, GA

Full Disclosure:
Nothing to Disclose

Objectives:
At the end of this session, participants will be able to:
1. Describe alternatives paths to career success as for a nurse researcher.
2. Review metrics for success including research, funding, publications, leadership, and impact.