Strategic Teaching/Tutoring

When teaching a strategy, it is important to follow these steps:

1. Tell the learner the information (auditory).
2. Have the learner repeat what was said (auditory processing).
3. Provide written information (visual input).
4. Ask the learner to explain what he/she has read (visual to auditory output).
5. Have the learner write down important details (visual-motor).
7. Outline tasks in small steps (sequential).
8. Have learner write out directions (visual).
