Two Examples of New Ways of Bridging the Information Gap by Disseminating Information

NEC-Zero Project

Project Echo

The NEC Zero Project

Rheumatology TeleECHO™ Clinic
How

• Define purpose, goals, and timeline.
• Disseminate evidence & best practices for complex, high risk problems via technology.
• Promote learning and the exchange of information.
• Facilitate stakeholder collaboration o Nurture relationships
  o Pre-planning
  o Post-meeting briefing
  o Follow-up.
Why?

• Bridges the gap between new knowledge and daily practice
• Offers information and support to the front line health consumer
• Increases access to specialty information
• Builds and connects communities
• Encourages self-efficacy & confidence
