ARTS AND SCIENCE

AND

SPACE

- Artists bringing the topic and study of space into works of art.
- Arts and science students using the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada library as a resource for a creative exploration.
ARTISTS and SCIENTISTS

Artists and Scientists share roles as seekers of truth and testers of ideas. They are driven by curiosity and are propelled forward by the chronic feeling they have not arrived at their destination.

Artists ‘dwell within the matted undergrowth of everyday vision’
Paul Klee 1948
‘How to achieve such anomalies, such alterations and re-fashioning of reality so what comes out of it are lies...but lies that are more than literal truth.’
