There are different types of dementia:

- The Progressive Dementias include:
  - Alzheimers….named after Alois Alzheimer. Characterised by atrophy of the brain, the death of brain cells and presence of tangles and amyloid plaques (All dementias have shrinking of the brain)
  - Vascular dementia – 2\textsuperscript{nd} most common type..
  - Frontotemporal dementia caused by deteriorated nerve cells in the brain's frontal and temporal lobes
  - Lewy body dementia, which results from abnormal protein clusters in the brain.
  - Mixed dementias…
• Vascular dementia - second most common type of dementia. It develops when impaired blood flow to parts of the brain deprives cells of food and oxygen.

• Symptoms may appear soon after a single major stroke blocks a large blood vessel and disrupts the blood supply to a significant portion of the brain.

• There is also a form in which a series of so-called ‘mini strokes’ (TIA’s – transient ischaemic attacks) block small blood vessels. Individually, these strokes do not cause major symptoms, but over time their combined effect becomes noticeable.

• Symptoms of vascular dementia can vary, depending on the specific brain areas deprived of blood. Impairment may occur in “steps,” where there is a fairly sudden, noticeable change in function, rather than the slow, steady decline usually seen in Alzheimer’s disease.

• The person may have a past history of heart attacks. Pre-disposing factors include high blood pressure, high cholesterol, hardening of the arteries, diabetes and other risk factors for heart disease. Thus, to some extent potentially preventable……
• Various diseases such as Parkinson’s and Huntingdon’s can progress into dementia and Down’s syndrome sufferers have a much increased risk.
Common symptoms in early to middle stages....

• An inability to acquire new memories....thus difficulty in learning.
• A shrinking vocabulary, less fluency in speaking and writing. Marked difficulty in finding the right words.
• Regularly forgetting recent events, names and faces
• Regularly misplacing items or putting them in odd places.
• Confusion about the time of day.
• Failing to recognise familiar objects or places.
• Reduced judgement, e.g. being unaware of danger.
• Mood or behaviour problems such as apathy, confusion and irritability.
• Not bothering with personal hygiene.
Later stages....

• Inability to dress and bathe independently or perform other routine tasks.

• Further and ultimately complete, loss of memory and mental abilities.

• Inability to recognise where one is.

• May recognise people as being familiar but don’t know who they are. Ultimately an inability to recognise relatives and friends at all.

• Wandering...suspicion...and other mood changes. Perhaps aggression

• Loss of control of bodily functions...incontinence.
Dementia Statistics in the US from the Alzheimers Association
• 90%+ of cases are people aged over 65 but…

• A significant number have ‘early onset’ (pre 65)

• The older you are………etc (one’s risk doubles every 5 years after the age of 65)

• About 43% of people over 85 in US have Dementia (4% of people are under 65)

• An estimated 5.7 million American sufferers in 2018
• By 2050, the number of people aged 65 and older with Alzheimer disease is expected to triple, rising from the current 5.5 million to a projected 11 million to 16 million, barring the development of effective treatments.

• The estimated cost in 2050 being 1.1 trillion dollars
• 80% of dementia care is delivered by family members in the US.

• .......saving the US economy an estimated 202 billion dollars
According to UK Alzheimer’s Research Trust........

• Dementia costs the UK economy £23 billion + per year. Cancer costs 12 billion and heart disease 8 billion.

• The costs per person being £27,647 per annum

• By contrast:
  Cancer costs £6000 per person per year.
  Stroke, £4,770 per person per year.
  Heart disease £3,455 per person per year.
Over 800,000 people in the UK live with dementia.

Dementia costs the UK economy £23 billion per year.

This is more than cancer (£12 billion per year) and heart disease (£8 billion per year) combined.
• According to the Alzheimer's Research Trust, Dementia research is severely underfunded, receiving 12 times less support than cancer research.

• £590 million invested in Cancer research each year

• £50 million invested in Dementia research each year

• Estimated 35 million sufferers worldwide – not just in rich countries – e.g thought to be a huge challenge for the future for nations such as India & China.
• People who eat large quantities of saturated fats, like those found in meat and dairy products, have twice the risk of developing Alzheimer's.
“You have a fear of Thiamine, Riboflavin, Niacin, etc., better known as a Vitamin B Complex.”
“A test of a people is how it behaves toward the old. It is easy to love children. Even tyrants and dictators make a point of being fond of children. But the affection and care for the old, the incurable, the helpless are the true gold mines of a culture.”

Abraham J. Heschel
Whatever happened to our sexual relations?

I don't know. I don't even think we got a Christmas card from them this year.
"Senile dementia's not 'so bad,' Mrs. Dupont.
It's kind of like having brand new friends every day."
There's nothing but repeats. Have I said this before? There's nothing but repeats...
“OH, GETTING OLD ISN’T SO BAD, EXCEPT MAYBE FOR A LITTLE FORGETFULNESS.”
"I remember the face but I've forgotten your name."

Heart Disease in the US – the medical view

• High Blood Pressure, high cholesterol and smoking are key risk factors. About half of Americans (47%) have at least one of these three risk factors.

• Other medical conditions/lifestyle choices can also put people at a higher risk for heart disease, including:
  • Diabetes
  • Being overweight or obese
  • Poor diet
  • Physical inactivity
  • Excessive alcohol use
The Health Equation

Health resources v. stress

• ‘Stress’ can be physical, mental, emotional, spiritual
• What stresses one person is not the same as what stresses another
• Basically we have individual susceptibilities – individuals are sensitive to different factors…..
JRP: An individual may get ill because of too much stress or too prolonged stress

OR

health resources are weak
What is stress?

• A state of mental or emotional strain or tension resulting from adverse or demanding circumstances.

• Stress can be physical e.g. when too much strain is placed on bodily parts....e.g too much repetitive sport, carrying too heavy loads, continual lack of sleep....
How to reduce stress

• Choosing a less stressful life?
• Using our talents/interests/skills in as conscious and as positive way as possible as shown by our horoscope
• Meditative practises – ‘mindfulness’
• Schedule in ‘Me time’
• Pets
Avoiding or delaying Cardio-vascular Dis-ease

• Doing what makes your Heart sing
• Owning and dealing with ‘heart-ache’
• Exercise or at least avoid a sedentary life-style
• Don’t smoke
• Have good diet
• Limit animal fats+++*
• Limit salt (re HBP)
  • 20mg olive oil daily – has to be raw and NOT cooked
Life Expectancy & avoiding dementia – the current scientific thinking….

• Life expectancy is 25% down to genetic inheritance and 75% due to life-style
• Dealing with Stress is a major factor in increasing life expectancy.
• Fasting
• Purple vegetables/fruit (e.g. purple sweet potato/aubergine/blackcurrants, blackberries/blueberries
• Being physically active – dancing/walking/table tennis
• Minimum 10,000 steps daily?
• Good early education….but learning always good
• Learning new things…e.g. taking up the guitar, learning a language
