Three aspects of the feminine quality of self-awakening in both women and men.
Weaving our personal wholeness
for fulfillment in life and relationships

Moon Matters, Nature and Nurture

Moon is the mother who brings us into this world with imprints of family patterns and DNA lineage. Pre-birth impressions and early biological experiences impact our growth and basic needs. Moon sets up our subconscious programs and our internal sense of self-identity.

Venus Heart Intelligence, Emotional I.Q.

Venus is our emotional wellbeing and sense of self love. This goddess of love orients our relational style, how we dress, how we spend money. Venus is the epitome of beauty, aesthetics, values and magnetism. She wrote the Law of Attraction and holds the mirror of life where we see ourselves reflected.

Black Moon Lilith, Soul Desire

Deep soul desire for incarnation, to embody our unique essence and authenticity infused spiritual brilliance. An impersonal, spacious consciousness, Lilith is an ego-buster, touching into dark shadows to “blow your mind” beyond concepts and judgments. “It is as it is.”

These factors may suggest a developmental process, starting with Moon in infancy and youth, Venus in puberty into adulthood, then Black Moon Lilith awakens in terms of deeper soul self-awareness. This is clearly not the whole story. Each person has a unique path to follow and particular mystery of selfhood to explore. Moon, Venus and Black Moon Lilith are always present in our nature and experience, whether we are aware of them or not. Some play out more strongly, wielding more influence, at various times, over our choices in life and love.

The Moon, Venus and Black Moon Lilith are found in your cosmic blueprint. A revealing story is told by each one on its own terms and how they are related to each other around the sky of your birth. We can also track their cycles through the years, noting times that signify a shift in awareness, new experiences, personal growth or a moment of destiny.
How these three aspects influence our relationships

The symbol of the Vesica Piscis shows two circles that intersect each other’s center, creating a shared space of union, a beautiful symbol of relationship.

Moon-based Relationships are likely to mirror original family patterns and unconscious inner needs, with levels of dependency. Such relationships most often focus on home and parenting, care-giving and emotional comfort.

Venus-based Relationships delight in the dance of male/female. Mars is the active male aspect in both men and women. This pair highlights the quality of emotional polarity in partnership to enhance happiness, satisfaction, pleasure and other delights of love. Projection onto the partner opens awareness of our inner male/female dynamic.

Black Moon Lilith-based Relationships evoke a soul bond, touching into compelling places of agony and ecstasy that challenge our willingness to explore beyond conventional bounds and let the relationship unfold. An impersonal quality of experience urges the essential vibrancy of soul. Beyond comfort or emotional happiness, the interplay may be hurtful, dark, edgy, even obsessive, forcing deeper self-awareness.

Again, all of these factors are present in any relationship. Often one factor or another will predominate as the core connection, which may change over time, or change for one partner or the other in ways that challenge the relationship.

“Love so activates the possibilities of self-knowledge that an entire universe heretofore unknown offers itself to the wide and curious eyes of the lover, a spark of the infinite.”
—Aldo Carotenuto, Eros and Pathos: Shades of Love and Suffering
More about Black Moon Lilith

“It is as though the moon threw a black body upon earth visible only to the subliminal senses, which thereby became illuminated.”
—Peter Redgrove, The Black Goddess and the Unseen Real

Black Moon Lilith is new to many, intriguing, mysterious, a fascinating energy that is eliciting increasing interest. Mythic Lilith has a smoky reputation that disappears into prehistory. This non-physical point, is an aetheric vortex, stirs up deep mysteries of consciousness as it seeks to unbind and free the soul to merge with spirit. It is intimately bound with the Moon’s orbit around Earth, therefore with our incarnation. Elusive to pinpoint, Black Moon is measured in two ways: by its mean, average motion, and by its true, back-and-forth movement, giving two windows into her subtle soul mysteries.

“perceives with an objectivity like that of nature itself and our dreams, boring into the soul to find the naked truth, to see reality beneath all its myriad forms and the illusions and defenses it displays.”
—Sylvia Perera, Descent to the Goddess

I love my never-ending astrology studies, through which I have been able to bring insight to many women and men seeking their true path in life. I look forward to talking with you.

"Her astrology readings are a powerful tool for seeing the emotional patterns in our past, then transforming them instead of repeating them. She affirms that small, still voice we all have within us, helping to clarify and amplify it as we become more receptive to that which we already are." —Emily, North Carolina

"Kelley made me feel she really cared and was truly vested in my wellbeing and made sure that I understood everything she was sharing with me. —Darryl, NYC
