Using Google and HyperDocs to Empower Your Students and Create Student-Centered Classroom

Technology is an outstanding tool for enhancing students learning experiences and student outcomes. Come together with fellow educators to discover new tools to create a meaningful, engaging and relevant learning environment that will transform your classroom. Learn how to use new Google tools and hyperdoc to empower your students while giving them choice and voice. Make curiosity, inspiration, and inquiry part of your classroom community. Participants will walk away with ready to use HyperDocs as well as menus and activities ready to implement in their classroom.

Learning target: Participants will be introduced to different forms of HyperDocs and will create menu and their first HyperDoc
